

زندہ لغت — شاعری کے نئے دروازے

URDU FOR POETRY LOVERS

VOLUME 6 • THE LIVING LEXICON

150 missing words • 40 living expressions • 10 poetry encounters from everyday understanding to classical, Sufi and social imagination

Prepared for

Mahesh Premachandra

Why a Sixth Volume?

Volumes 1 and 2 established 200 essential words; Volumes 3–5 taught script, poetic craft and whole-poem reading. Yet a learner can recognise ishq, dard and ghazal and still lose the sentence because aakhir, aur, har or guzarna slips past. This volume closes that gap while also opening the richer symbolic worlds of the garden, journey, Sufi quest and modern social poem.

150 new words • Every headword is absent from the core 200-word lists in Volumes 1 and 2.

15 semantic worlds • Words are learned in families so one image activates several neighbours.

40 living expressions • Izafat, o-compounds and ordinary phrases turn recognition into usable language.

10 poetry encounters • New vocabulary is tested inside complete public-domain couplets rather than isolated examples.

350-word milestone • Completing this book gives you a practical base of about 350 core vocabulary items across the series.

How to study • Read five entries, cover the meaning, say the Urdu aloud, rebuild the example phrase, then locate one of the words in a poem or song. Recognition before memorisation; poetry before perfection.

Near-Neighbours: Choose the Right Shade

Synonyms are not interchangeable decorations. Register, history and image decide which word feels inevitable.

PAIR	DISTINCTION	URDU
lafz / alfaaz	one word / words	لفظ / الفاظ
sadaa / aawaaz	resonant call / ordinary voice or sound	صدا / آواز
qissa / fasaana	story or matter / imaginative tale	قصہ / فسانہ
shauq / zauq	eager passion / cultivated taste	شوق / ذوق
baagh / chaman	garden / lyrical garden-meadow	باغ / چمن
raah / raasta	lyrical path / everyday route	راہ / راستہ

Practice • Write one sentence that could accept both words, then explain how the register changes.

Near-Neighbours • Continued

The second set moves from poetic scenery toward ethical, mystical and existential distinctions.

PAIR	DISTINCTION	URDU
shab / raat	literary night / everyday night	شب / رات
shama / diya	candle-flame / small lamp	شمع / دیا
zulm / sitam	public oppression / cruelty or torment	ظلم / ستم
fana / maut	dissolution of self / death	فنا / موت
haq / sach	truth, right or the Real / ordinary truth	حق / سچ
aashiyaan / ghar	poetic nest-dwelling / home	آشیاں / گھر

Practice • Replace one word in a favourite sher with its neighbour. The loss you hear is the beginning of literary judgment.

Ten Vocabulary-to-Poetry Encounters

Read the Urdu first and circle the Volume 6 word. Use the Roman line only as a bridge. Then explain the movement without consulting the supplied note.

01 • Mirza Ghalib

بس کہ دشوار ہے ہر کام کا آساں ہونا

آدمی کو بھی میسر نہیں انساں ہونا

bas-ki dushvaar hai har kaam ka aasaan hona / aadmi ko bhi muyassar nahin insaan hona

Plain sense • Every task is difficult—so difficult that even a person does not easily attain true humanity.

New words • bas • har • insaan

Poetic movement • The first line sounds general; the second reveals that the hardest work is becoming fully human.

02 • Meer Taqi Meer

دیکھ تو دل کہ جاں سے اٹھتا ہے

یہ دھواں سا کہاں سے اٹھتا ہے

dekh to dil ki jaan se uthta hai / ye dhuwan sa kahan se uthta hai

Plain sense • Look—does it rise from the heart or the soul? From where does this smoke-like trace arise?

New words • uthna

Poetic movement • Smoke makes an unseen inward burning visible without naming its fire.

03 • Akbar Allahabadi

دنیا میں ہوں دنیا کا طلب گار نہیں ہوں
بازار سے گزرا ہوں خریدار نہیں ہوں

duniya mein hun duniya ka talabgaar nahin hun / bazaar se guzra hun kharidaar nahin hun

Plain sense • I live in the world but do not seek the world; I have passed through the market but am not a buyer.

New words • guzarna

Poetic movement • Participation is separated from possession: one may pass through a system without buying its values.

Text reference • rekhta.org/couplets/duniyaa-men-huun-duniyaa-kaa-talabgaar-nahiin-huun-akbar-allahabadi-couplets-1

04 • Mirza Ghalib

آئینہ کیوں نہ دوں کہ تماشا کہیں جسے
ایسا کہاں سے لاؤں کہ تجھ سا کہیں جسے

aaina kyun na dun ki tamasha kahen jise / aisa kahan se laun ki tujh sa kahen jise

Plain sense • Why not give a mirror and call it a spectacle? From where could I bring another whom one might call your equal?

New words • aaina

Poetic movement • The mirror solves an impossible comparison: only the beloved's reflection can resemble the beloved.

05 • Mirza Ghalib

نہ تھا کچھ تو خدا تھا کچھ نہ ہوتا تو خدا ہوتا
ڈبویا مجھ کو ہونے نے نہ ہوتا میں تو کیا ہوتا

na tha kuchh to khuda tha, kuchh na hota to khuda hota / duboya mujh ko hone ne, na hota main to kya hota

Plain sense • When nothing existed, God was; had nothing existed, God would remain. My existing drowned me—had I not existed, what would I have been?

New words • kuchh • to Poetic movement • The ordinary verb 'to be' becomes the philosophical burden of separate existence.

الٹی ہو گئیں سب تدبیریں کچھ نہ دوا نے کام کیا
دیکھا اس بیماری دل نے آخر کام تمام کیا

ulti ho gain sab tadbiren, kuchh na dawa ne kaam kiya / dekha is bimari-e-dil ne aakhir kaam tamaam kiya

Plain sense • All strategies reversed; no medicine worked. This illness of the heart finally finished the matter.

New words • kuchh • bimaar • aakhir

Poetic movement • The idiom kaam tamaam turns failure of cure into an understated final destruction.

07 • Allama Iqbal

ستاروں سے آگے جہاں اور بھی ہیں
ابھی عشق کے امتحاں اور بھی ہیں

sitaaron se aage jahaan aur bhi hain / abhi ishq ke imtihaan aur bhi hain

Plain sense • Beyond the stars are still more worlds; still more trials of love remain.

New words • sitaara • aur

Poetic movement • Visible distance expands into an ethic of continued striving.

Text reference • rekhta.org/couplets/sitaaron-se-aage-jahaan-aur-bhii-hain-allama-iqbal-couplets

08 • Meer Taqi Meer

چلتے ہو تو چمن کو چلیے کہتے ہیں کہ بہاراں ہے
پات ہرے ہیں پھول کھلے ہیں کم کم باد و باراں ہے

chalte ho to chaman ko chaliye, kahte hain ki bahaaraan hai / paat hare hain, phool khile hain, kam-kam baad-o-baaraan hai

Plain sense • If you are going, let us go to the garden—they say spring is there: leaves are green, flowers have opened, and wind and rain arrive gently.

New words • chalna • to • chaman • khulna

Poetic movement • The line does not argue for spring; it builds spring through a catalogue of small visible changes.

ہر ایک بات پہ کہتے ہو تم کہ تو کیا ہے
تمہی کہو کہ یہ اندازِ گفتگو کیا ہے

har ek baat pe kahte ho tum ki tu kya hai / tumhin kaho ki ye andaaz-e-guftagu kya hai

Plain sense • At every statement you ask, 'Who are you?' You tell me—what manner of conversation is this?

New words • har • ek

Poetic movement • The beloved's repeated question is returned as a controlled question about tone and dignity.

Text reference • rekhta.org/couplets/har-ek-baat-pe-kahte-ho-tum-ki-tuu-kyaa-hai-mirza-ghalib-couplets

شمعِ حرم ہو یا کہ دیا سومنات کا

us ke farogh-e-husn se jhamke hai sab mein noor / shama-e-haram ho ya ki diya Somnath ka

Plain sense • From the radiance of that beauty, light gleams in all—whether the sanctuary's candle or Somnath's lamp.

New words • shama • ya • diya

Poetic movement • Two religious spaces become equal vessels of one light; the comparison widens beauty into unity.

The Volume 6 Completion Test

لفظ سے معنی، معنی سے شعر

From word to meaning; from meaning to poetry.

Recognition • Can you identify at least 120 of the 150 Urdu word-shapes without Roman help?

Grammar • Can you hear aur, to, bas, har, kuchh and aakhir as structural signals?

Verbs • Can you locate the action and recognise completed or continuing forms of the twenty new verbs?

Images • Can you connect shama-parwaana, bulbul-chaman, kashti-toofan and zakhm-marham without treating them as fixed codes?

Register • Can you explain why a poet chose qissa rather than fasaana, or shab rather than raat?

Range • Can you read romantic, mystical and social vocabulary without forcing every poem into only one of those frames?

Independence • Can you read one unfamiliar sher, resolve its vocabulary, identify its turn and defend a layered interpretation?

Series milestone • You now possess a working 350-word core, script familiarity, grammar, close-reading method, poetic-form awareness and a repeatable way to grow your vocabulary directly from poems.

Bridge to Volume 7

The next volume can become a thematic anthology: love and separation, selfhood, devotion, exile, mortality, nature, justice and wonder—each section built from complete poems or substantial public-domain selections with facing vocabulary, historical context, recitation notes and independent-reading exercises.
